

Pharmacy Research Priorities in Malaysia

Do you know?

The Pharmacy Research Priorities in Malaysia was published in 2018

Why do we need to set the research priorities?

Ensure that the studies conducted are able to address important national health problems

Provide clear guidance for pharmacy research activities towards generation of useful evidence that is relevant to the national health priorities

Generate high impact research evidence

Optimise time, effort & resources by minimising the duplication of similar and small-scaled researches in different facilities

Streamline conventional individual research projects towards high impact national or multicentre researches

What should we aim for when we are conducting research?

Bridge the knowledge gaps

Support the development of new policies

Translate research findings into policy and practice